Commencement Day – Help Reduce Traffic by Working a Flexible Schedule
As part of our effort to reduce the negative impact of traffic and critical parking constraints, we ask your help in actively assessing your workforce and identifying staff members who do not need to be on campus on the morning of May 13 for mission-critical or Commencement-support roles. Learn more.

Workshop Offering to Introduce Managers to the Benefits of Workplace Flexibility
The Emory WorkLife Resource Center has put together an introductory workshop that will be open to any university manager that has an interest in creating a more flexible work environment within their business unit here at Emory. The workshop will be offered twice in June. Participants will be led through a discussion about what is meant by work-life and workplace flexibility; the drivers and impact of flexibility today in the workplace; and shed light on the current state of flexibility at Emory. The session will also point out top concerns expressed by managers when implementing flexible work arrangements. Learn more and register for the workshop.

Summer, Fall Learning and OD Class Schedule Announced
The Learning & Organizational Development Department is pleased to offer a variety of courses filled with dynamic content. Our General Enrollment classes offer participants flexibility to customize their professional development by choosing courses to meet their professional development needs and interests. View classes being offered.

May is Global Employee Health & Fitness Month
Global Employee Health and Fitness Month promotes the benefits of a healthy lifestyle in the workplace. To encourage faculty and staff to “move more,” Emory offers several programs and resources to help you fit more physical activity into your daily routine. See Resources.
