Emory University faculty and staff are invited to a series of summer book salons where we will fellowship with colleagues and converse about hope, renewal, and living a meaningful life.

June, July, and August 2020

Please contact Kevin Crawford (kevin.crawford@emory.edu) or Ed Lee III (ewlee@emory.edu) to obtain additional information and to sign up to participate. We look forward to you joining the conversation.

Summer Readings for Restoration

Faculty/Staff Book Salons

Viktor Frankl's Man's Search for Meaning (1946): Based on his experiences in Nazi death camps, including Auschwitz, from 1942 to 1945, Frankl's timeless memoir and meditation on finding meaning in the midst of suffering argues that man cannot avoid suffering but can choose how to cope with it, find meaning in it, and move forward with renewed purpose.

Anne Lamont's Almost Everything: Notes on Hope (2018): In this profound and funny book, Lamott calls for each of us to rediscover the nuggets of hope and wisdom that are buried within us that can make life sweeter than we ever imagined. Divided into short chapters that explore life's essential truths, Almost Everything pinpoints these moments of insight as it shines an encouraging light forward.

Elaine Pagels's Why Religion? A Personal Story (2017): Why is religion still around in the twentyfirst century? Why do so many still believe? And how do various traditions still shape the way people experience everything from sexuality to politics, whether they are religious or not? In Why Religion? Elaine Pagels looks to her own life to help address these questions.
