NETEC Website Provides Resources for Safely and Effectively Managing Special Pathogens

The National Emerging Special Pathogens Training and Education Center (NETEC) has launched a new website designed to meet the needs of health care facilities and nurses, physicians, emergency responders, and other health care professionals to safely and effectively manage special pathogens.

The site features a range of resources, including case studies, FAQs, and guidelines for managing emerging pathogens. It also provides information on how to stay up-to-date with the latest developments in the field.

One of the key features of the new NETEC website is its ability to provide real-time updates and guidance on emerging pathogen outbreaks, allowing health care professionals to make informed decisions quickly.

The website is accessible through a secure online portal, and is designed to be user-friendly and easy to navigate. It is available at www.netec.org.

If you have any questions or feedback about the new NETEC website, please contact info@netec.org.
